

Worlds Practice Race Guidelines - No Rules

Schedule:

- Practice races may be held every day, starting as soon as possible after the last regular Cup race , if it's not too late, and weather conditions and tides are fine, if there is no social event to come, and so on...We will give priority to the official Schedule ++

Race Format:

- You will have to sail to the starting line during the last Cup's race.
- You will be informed about the timing of the last starting sequence, D/P displayed Ashore (Warning about + 45min)
- Your starting sequence will be run just after the last Cup's boat will cross the finish line.
- If unforeseen additional Cup's race, you might wait on the water during this race.
- No practice race if less than 4 boats on the starting line, or if we have to wait more than 15 minutes.
- No practice race, if no Cup's race during the day.

Guidelines:

- Sailors are expected to start, sail the course, and finish as gentleman sailors.
- Competitors will sail on the same course as the regular race or a shorter version of it.
- All competitors must comply with Race Officer's instructions.
- No signing in/out, and one practice race a day without jury.

Additional Information:

- There will be a finishing order, but no official ranking will be recorded.
- Just write down your name at the back office to inform the RO. No official entries. No entry fee
- Participants will sail at their own risk, though a security staff may be present on the water.

We look forward to seeing you on the water for some friendly and competitive practice sessions.

At the end, don't forget that you may race or not,
and the RO may run the race for you or not.